War Against the Serbs

The Clinton government's military attack on Yugoslavia on March 24 opened up new opportunities for the Alliance. The significance of the attack will be discussed in the American Dissident Voices broadcast of April 3, but for those members who aren't able to listen to the broadcasts via radio and who still don't have access to our Internet sites, a summary is provided here.

First, because the Clinton government's policy toward the Serbs is extremely ill advised, being based on the hatred which the Jews and the looney-liberal crowd of Clinton supporters long have had for the Serbs, the military attack provides yet another issue which our members can use to demonstrate the dangerously un-American and unprincipled nature of the Clinton government and its inability to make sound decisions based on American interests.

Jews and Clintonistas hate the Serbs because the latter refuse to accept the multi-ethnic sort of existence being imposed on many other peoples and because the Serbs are not inclined to take orders from the United Nations or accept the inevitability of the New World Order. Blinded by their own hatred of the Serbs, the Jews and Clintonistas assumed the rest of the world would see things as they did, and so they launched their military attack on Yugoslavia. They misjudged badly both the character of the Serbs and the reaction of the rest of the world. At the very least they will emerge from this foolish and bloody adventure with a drastic loss of prestige and credibility.

Alliance members, in discussing the war against Yugoslavia with non-members, should stress: 1) the Jewishness of all of Clinton's foreign-policy team—Albright, Berger, Cohen, and Holbrooke—and Clinton's willingness to do and say whatever they tell him; 2) the hypocrisy and mendacity of the Clinton government, which claims the right to intervene in the internal affairs of Yugoslavia on the basis of alleged mistreatment of Albanians by Serbs but completely ignores worse treatment of Palestinians by Jews in Israel and of Kurds by Turks in Turkey, to cite just two examples; 3) the complete lack of any coherent national policy, based on American interests, for guiding America's relations with other countries; 4) the immorality of a government which has claimed publicly that one of the reasons for waging war against Yugoslavia is to ensure that Europe will continue to be a good market for American products; and, when talking to persons who seem especially receptive to new and fundamental concepts, 5) the danger of continuing to accept democracy unquestioningly as the best form of government in an age when the people who control the mass media can control what the majority of the public thinks.

Second, because the Alliance has publicly taken the side of the Serbs in the current conflict, both through our ADV broadcasts and through leaflets like the one reproduced here, we Hands Off Yugoslavia!

The use of America's armed forces for aggression against Yugoslavia is not in the interest of the American people or world peace. It should be stopped immediately. The Clinton government's unprovoked military attack on the sovereign nation of Yugoslavia is a criminal act and does not have the support of true American patriots.

America's armed forces should be used only to defend America's national interests, and killing Serbian women and children in an attempt to force the government of Yugoslavia to obey the dictates of the New World Order gang is not in America's interests. Neither the Serbian people nor the government of Yugoslavia has done anything hostile to the United States or the American people, and there is no legitimate reason for the military assault on Yugoslavia. The aggression against the Serbian people has been planned and ordered by the entirely kosher gang around Clinton which now runs America's foreign policy and uses America's armed forces to support its scheme for a dictatorial New World Order rather than to defend America.

The Serbian people are a brave, independent, and freedom-loving people, and their refusal to obey the dictates of the New World Order makes them worthy allies of American patriots. The men and women of the National Alliance offer them moral support in their struggle to defend themselves against New World Order aggression.

Kosovo is an integral part of Yugoslavia. It is where the Serbian army made a valiant effort more than six centuries ago to halt the invasion of Europe by Turks from Asia. It is where the Serbs' greatest national hero, Milosh Obelic, rode alone into the Turkish camp on June 28, 1389, fought his way into the Turkish sultan's tent, and singlehandedly slew him. Kosovo belongs to the Serbs, and no one else has any legal or moral right to interfere in its internal affairs.

Join the National Alliance in demanding that America's armed forces stop being used as Madeleine Albright's death squad for enforcing the dictates of the New World Order. Join us in demanding, hands off Yugoslavia now!

HUNDREDS of these leaflets were handed to Serb demonstrators in Cleveland on March 27 and were well received. The owner of a Serbo-Croatian language radio station in Cleveland said that he will read the entire leaflet on the air. Prototypes of the leaflet are available from the National Office without charge to members who wish to have copies printed locally for local distribution. A downloadable prototype is also available from our web sites under the head "Print Your Own Leaflet." All you need is a laser printer and an Internet connection.

should be able to develop new contacts with Serb communities in the United States and Canada. We have only a few Serb members now, but Clinton's latest war provides us with an opportunity to recruit many more.

One thing to keep in mind, however, is that, while we support the right of the people of Yugoslavia to defend the sovereignty of their country and to conduct their own internal affairs as they see fit, without interference from the New World Order, we are not taking sides on the various intra-Balkan conflicts. We are not siding with Serbs against Croats or Slovenes or Bosnian Muslims or even Albanians. We are only siding with Serbs against the United Nations, NATO, the Clinton government, and the Jews.

ADV Network Changes

March was a bad month for free speech. In a stepped-up campaign of organized harassment and intimidation, the Jews were able to pressure four broadcasting stations to drop out of the American Dissident Voices network. The stations we lost were KJFK, in Austin, TX; WGNU, in St. Louis, MO; WIKK, in Houston, TX; and KIEZ, in Monterey, CA.

Some members have advised the National Office that we should not waste money on radio broadcasting and all of the problems and uncertainties which come with it, and we should concentrate our resources on the Internet instead.

It is true that we pay much less per listener for our Internet broadcasts than for our radio broadcasts, and the former audience is growing much more rapidly than the latter. Probably more people already listen to us via the Internet each week than via radio, although we have no way of measuring the radio audience directly. We spend thousands of dollars for radio time every month, whereas our Internet audience costs us only the additional staff time required to format the ADV programs and add them to our web sites. If we gave up radio broadcast-

Taking the Sheet off the Saturday Night Programming

by Lee Nichols

"The First Amendment at its Best" – that's how KJFK has touted itself since it switched to an all-talk format. Unfortunately, that motto has never been much more than a joke. With a lineup that boasts Howard Stern, G. Gordon Liddy, and Art Bell, it's pretty easy to ridicule 98.9FM as the First Amendment at its worst – surely our Bill of Rights has a higher purpose than enfranchising the crude, the criminal, and UFO nuts. (I know what you're thinking: What about Alex Jones? Actually, I kind of like him – he's aiming at the right target, even if he's missing the bullseye).

But scraping the bottom of the barrel wasn't embarrassing enough for KJFK. They've gone beneath the barrel and have starting digging down in the worms and filth. For about six months now on Saturday nights between 11pm and midnight (actually, it starts about 11:15pm, after the longest regular commercial break I've ever heard), KJFK has been running paid "infomercials" produced by white supremacists. No, we don't mean conservative, anti-affirmative action, Rush Limbaugh types. We mean real, fire-breathing unapologetic racists, proclaiming the inherent superiority of the white Christian race and bashing on Jews, blacks, and anyone else who might make a good scapegoat.

KJFK receives the programs from National Vanguard Publishers. At the beginning and the Byrd's brutal murder (but not the bigotry that inspired it) as "hooliganism," he claims that what made King a racist "was not indoctrination by white gangs, [but] direct contact with the reality of the black nature. It was direct exposure to the wonders of life with the colored brother."

Pierce said he grew up in East Texas, where he said "there are, of course, too many blacks there ... but in the small towns like Jasper, the blacks are moderately well-behaved. The police don't coddle them the way they do in big cities. The white people in East Texas aren't terrorized by them.

"And so, John King didn't think much about blacks or about the racial situation in this country until he was sent to prison for burglary and was exposed to a majority prison population consisting of black criminals like James Byrd, the black ex-convict he was convicted of killing.

"I don't want to get into all of the gory details about what young white men are exposed to in prisons these days, where the majority of the inmates very often are black. It is a hell almost beyond imagining for white Americans brought up in a genteel environment. For blacks, homosexual rape is accepted behavior. It is not a rare occurrence. It is routine. It's the way they establish their barnyard pecking order. They rape each other when they must, but they much prefer to rape whites."

Yes, folks, this is what KJFK finds to fill its discussions that enlighten the listener – something which very little of KJFK's programming currently does. Most of what they air is mind-numbing, if not offensive. The First Amendment was crafted to elevate our nation and help it find of the real disease: crushed staff morale. And the blame for that must be firmly placed on the Cadre.

For the sake of argument, we'll brush aside the allegations of questionable elections and assume the Cadre really did rise to power through the will of the majority of KOOP members. When that happened, however, they made a winner-take-all democracy. They didn't make suggestions for a new direction for KOOP; they made pronouncements. And then, when some members raised legitimate objections, they tried to stifle this dissent through intimidation – rather than contemplate the concerns of members, they berated those concerns as being motivated by racism, sexism, and homophobia. They told people to "quit whining." They said that the dissenters just feared change.

The message was: Accept our decisions, and if you don't, we'll tar and feather you.

There is just one problem with that: Unlike the democracy of a nation, a cooperative is not a winner-take-all situation. In a nation, those who ing, we would have enough additional money to hire another staff member to enhance our Internet operations—certainly to answer more of our e-mail; perhaps to add new features, such as those which would allow people who don't have a computer but who do have web-tv to listen to our broadcasts via their television receivers, etc.—and have several thousands dollars left over for other purposes as well.

Giving up radio, however, would deprive us of the ability to reach people who don't use the Internet but do listen to radio. This includes many older people and less-educated people who never will use the Internet. It also would put all our eggs in one basket. If the Jews and their collaborators succeed in gaining control of the Internet—and they are working as hard at that as they ever have worked at

Neo-Nazi program dropped

Time slot purchased by alternative healer and radio personality

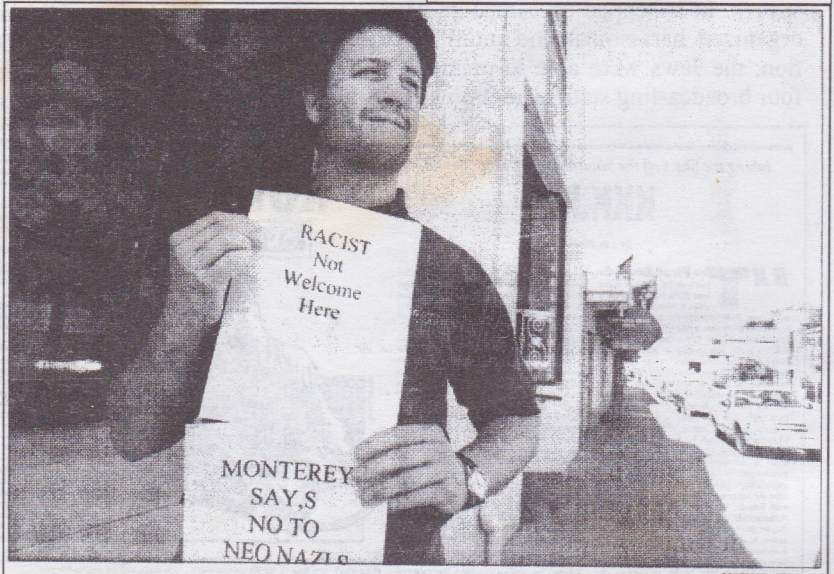
"American Dissident Voices" has been silenced.

The half-hour show, produced by ~~the Neo-Nazi group~~ National Alliance and highlighting the racial separatist views of founder William Pierce, no longer will be broadcast on KIEZ/KNRY AM radio.



ROBERT FISH/The Herald

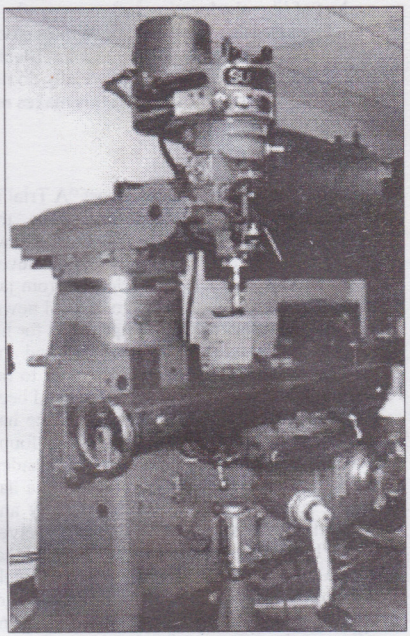
Ondre Seltzer, a healing practitioner who has a program on KNRY radio, opposed the broadcasting of a program called "American Dissident Voices," so he bought the time slot in order to air his program, "Everybody's Voice."

ONE of two newspaper articles in Monterey County's The Herald which, along with picketing by Jews like this New Age guru Ondre Seltzer, intimidated station KIEZ into dropping American Dissident Voices this month.

anything—then they will be able to silence us. For the time being, therefore, we will continue to broadcast via both the Internet and radio, despite the susceptibility of the latter medium to Jewish sabotage of the sort experienced this month.

Milling Machine Donated

Several Cleveland Unit members pooled resources and donated a vertical mill, along with a large number of cutting tools and other milling accessories, to the National Office shop. The 2,600-lb. machine, which provides digital readouts for the X and Y axes and a motor drive for the X axis, was delivered to the National Office on March 13 by Cleveland members Eric P. and Stefan B. After a thorough cleaning and a few adjustments and minor repairs, the milling machine, which was retired from a Cleveland factory whose workers' jobs had been exported to China, should be available for repairing and fabricating equipment, greatly enhancing the self-sufficiency of the National Office.



THE NEW MILL in the National Office machine shop: along with a lathe, drill presses, and welding equioment, it takes us closer to self-sufficiency.

Tirolean Member

We have recruited our first member in Tirol. He is Stephan T., an Austrian German whose home is in that part of Tirol now under Italian jurisdiction.

Correspondence

The number of letters received at the National Office from members of the public continues to grow. It should be emphasized that nearly all of the letters excerpted here are from new contacts: people who are writing to us for the first time. Furthermore, virtually none of them are "movement" hobbyists, who amuse themselves by writing to all sorts of organizations and sounding off. Many of these new contacts may be lacking in courage, but their sincerity is evident. A few examples follow:

I have been reading articles from the American Dissident Voices and Free Speech areas of your web site. The National Alliance seems one of the few media sources that I can read and not feel seriously depressed for a long time afterward. I had no idea that anyone else shared my views. . . . Will Dr. Pierce or another representative be making public appearances in the Phoenix or Tucson areas that I can attend?
—James S.

For about the past month and a half I have been receiving the weekly e-mail speech based on the radio show. I must say that I have enjoyed this service very much. It pleases me to know that there are people like Dr. Pierce out there who are not afraid to take a public stand and talk about the forces that are working to destroy the White race.

While I am presently not a member, I do plan on becoming one when I graduate from college. Keep up the good work!
—Jerry D.

I enjoyed your broadcast "Stopping the Hijacking of America" [March 27]. Political Correctness is the enemy of us all. I totally agree that reaching out to other concerned Americans is very much needed. Your broadcasts must continue. Your organization must succeed. Thank you for providing direction and leadership.
—L.R.

I want to tell you how glad I am to read your writings. I am pleased that you are out there trying to make people aware of how to stop the Politically Correct b.s. we Americans are being overwhelmed with. I would like to know what I can do to help, other than sharing your information with friends, relatives, and like-minded people. Any suggestions will be appreciated . . . .

Some of the things happening in America infuriate me so much that I feel physically ill. . . .
—Albert D.

I live in Bayonne, New Jersey. I just bought a computer. On my way home from work I saw a National Alliance sticker with your web address. As soon as I got home I started reading the material at your web site and couldn't stop. Your speeches are great: "Special Treatment" and "A Trial in Jasper," to name a couple. I don't write many letters, but I want to tell you that your speeches have done a lot to wake up my family and friends. It's a shame I had to wait until 1999 to hear of the National Alliance.
—Ed C.

I've only been on the Internet for a couple of months, and you are the best thing I've found. There is no one I agree with more than you on our Jewish problem. But then, this is not a topic that is talked about out loud at the cafeteria at work. Only a keen observer notices the situation. It is a topic for independent thinkers only, and they're becoming more and more rare.

I am very impressed with your work. I do check up on some of the things you say because I am not easily persuaded. It is a natural habit on my part to look into who is saying what, just as it is for you. This habit is how we have become acquainted. . . . I am still rather new to your organization, but I am very impressed. You are very quickly becoming one of my favorite Americans. . . .

I am temporarily living in California, although I am originally from New Jersey. I shall spread the word to those I can get to listen. It is much harder to talk to people about anything Politically Incorrect out here. It is like living in another country. I am in the Bay area. Does it get any more liberal than this? This state should secede from the Union, so that we all can learn from its liberal mistakes.

Keep doing what you are doing. Hopefully, one day the rest of White America will wake up. If they don't, we'll have to go to war about it. I am about out of patience. . . .
—J.A.

Recently I attended a gun show in my area. When I made a small purchase I was surprised to be handed a National Alliance program by the vendor. When I got home and read this material my immediate reaction was, "Thank God!" I had thought I was the only one who believed these things.

I served 20 years in the U.S. Army and am a former police officer. In both of these occupations I witnessed time and again the blatant promotion of non-White personnel, while hard-working White soldiers and officers were passed over because of the unspoken racial quotas.

Time and again I have witnessed the corruption and decay in once decent neighborhoods after the influx of large numbers of Blacks. I have been sickened by seeing the number of White girls coerced into dating Blacks to prove that they are not "prejudiced." This is the end product of liberal education and propaganda.

All I can say is it's about time Whites stood up and said, "Enough!" We do not want Blacks in our neighborhoods, and we especially do not want them in our families. . . . If this makes me a racist, so be it!
—Thomas F. C.

After listening to your broadcast "A Trial in Jasper" [March 6], I am appreciative for "the rest of the story." The manipulation of the news by the media is real, even on the local level. When Nelson Mandela was released from jail in South Africa a few years ago, a local newscaster said that he had been imprisoned for his political views. A friend of mine watched and heard this and immediately sent a letter to the woman newscaster telling her that he had been imprisoned for terrorist activities: that he had been sought for some time, and when found holed up in a cave he had a case of grenades, weapons, ammunition, and a pamphlet he had written supporting the Communist Party and advocating civil upheaval. My friend received a letter back from the newscaster. She said that she too had objected to the portrayal of Mandela as a political dissident, but the news manager told her, "Read it the way it's written. No one will know the difference." She said that she had showed my friend's letter to her news manager and told him, "Someone did know the difference."
—Sam

And there has been the usual quota of hate mail this month. There's not enough room for much of it here, but the following letter from a Birch Society-style individualist, which is a classic example of this type mentality, could not be passed up:

Greetings from Houston. I'd like to say that many people I know, myself included, share some of your values and ideals for this country. In particular, I and many of my associates feel that uncontrolled immigration and access to the benefits of the welfare state, even by illegal immigrants, are bad trends and should be brought under control. Additionally, the power of the Federal judiciary to gainsay popular initiative needs to be restrained, although this may require a constitutional amendment. As for Jewish people, I agree that they have a lot of influence in media. Basing your values on the scientifically vacuous and invalid concept or race, however, discredits your movement, places its members squarely in the evil traditions of fascist thought, and will lead to further useless polarization in the body politic. . . . The amount of melanin in one's skin is irrelevant to one's developmental and philosophical path. There are, after all, a number of impressive black conservative intellectuals, such as Thomas Sowell, whom you might do well to read. I encourage you also to read some Ayn Rand for a vigorous defense of individual rights. If you fall prey to colorism [sic], all you will do—believe me—is alienate your group from people of good will who are sympathetic to some of your other values and reinforce the very trends you hate: identity politics based on class, group, or race affiliation. Remember your humanity and forget the rest.
—John Doba [jondoba@flash.net]

One can only wonder what planet Mr. Doba is living on. If he ever has an encounter with this planet, he is liable to pick up a severe case of "colorism" in a hurry.

Commentary by Dr. Pierce:

History Lesson

A knowledge of history is one of the most valuable treasures any person can own: not just a person who writes about politics and other history-related topics, but also the person who simply wants to understand the world around himself and his place in it. And perhaps the most valuable lesson we can learn from history is that the course of world events is to a large extent unpredictable.

This unpredictability is important, because it tells us that even the most powerful and well entrenched establishments, including superpower governments and media-controlling ethnic cliques, are susceptible to having their apple carts overturned. To a certain extent, the more powerful an establishment is, the more likely it is to be surprised by history, simply because power tends to lead to arrogance, over-confidence, and carelessness.

The Clinton government provides an excellent example of this. We all knew that Bill Clinton was a scumbag even before he began his first term in the White House, but who could have guessed that he would do such a superb demolition job on the prestige and credibility of the U.S. government, both in America and elsewhere? Certainly not the Jews who put him in office.

And consider the wonderfully foolish way in which the Jews have misused the control over America's foreign-policy/military establishment which they have acquired in the Clinton era. The Jews assumed that with America's mass media in their hands to control the thinking of the public, and with America's nuclear arsenal in their pockets to intimidate anyone not persuaded by their media, they could march us all at double-time into the workers' barracks of the New World Order's global plantation. Surrounded by ambitious yes-men such as General Wesley Clark and by the usual riffraff of Gentile liberals, feminists, and fashion-conscious yuppies, they let their arrogance get the better of them. They really believed that the world would praise them for unleashing America's military might on the "fascist" Serbs. And this time they are out front, where the world can see who America's murderous policy-makers are, instead of hiding behind the scenes and whispering orders to their Gentile front men, as is their usual custom.

As this BULLETIN goes to press, it remains to be seen how the Jews will extricate themselves from their Serbian mistake, but it is certainly bound to be a costly mistake for them in the long run. That should be encouraging to all of us—especially to those with a defeatist streak, who can only see the power wielded by the Jews at this time and cannot see how that power can be opposed successfully. Our task, as always, is never to count our enemies or to spend too much time contemplating their strength, but to devote ourselves to building the number of our friends, so that we can make the best possible use of every future mistake of the Jews.
